rocketseed

Rocketseed Professional Email Branding

Activate your own branding and media channel on every email your business delivers.

Rocketseed Mail enables you to make every email you send inside and out of your business count, by allowing you to insert targeted marketing messages, and other media into every email you send. Not only can you insert these messages, you can also be alerted in real time of recipient responses and track every impression, providing you with a real and measurable ROI on something you and your staff already do every day – SEND EMAIL.

Control, Consistency and Efficiency

Rocketseed Mail also gives you central control over all the Marketing Messages and email Signatures of your staff, allowing you to make changes instantly, driving improved IT efficiency plus ensuring that your brand identity email is secure and consistent in every email across the business down to individual level.
